Here is our hands on experience with FIFA 22 in 2 player split-screen match. Pelé with a funny skill and a couple of super-tackles. Vuvuzelas can be fun and annoying... Team-mate Hulk smashes into a defender with his long legs. The FIFA Real Club Challenge supports 32 clubs from all over the world and every club will receive a unique code. Everyone can play the Real Club Challenge but it's much easier to get into. Players will need to own FIFA 18, and follow the instructions below to enter the Open Beta. First, the challenges are divided into three phases, Club, Mini-League and Global. The Club phase is where the Open Beta begins. Players will be randomly assigned to Club competitions, usually featuring a name of the player they are most familiar with. The Club phase will take place in teams of two in 9-a-side matches. It's likely we will see the Global Phase on PS4 only. What is the Club Challenge? The Club Challenge is divided into three phases, Club, Mini-League and Global. The Club phase is the beginning. Players will be randomly assigned to Club competitions, usually featuring a name of the player they are most familiar with. Clubs will be split into four groups: North, South, Central and Eastern, based on the percentage of English football clubs in the country. The groups will be based on domestic cup and league results from the past three seasons. Clubs outside of the top four of the English Premier League automatically qualify for the competition. Each Club will play as many matches as it wins in the Club phase. Points will be awarded for each match. The Club with the most points at the end of the Club phase will be crowned the Club Champion. This summer, we will visit Club Champions and tournaments including Wembley International Club Cup, The FA Youth Cup and The Football League Cup for the first time in the history of FIFA. *Asking "why is it just for PS4," it is not. For the first time, the FIFA Ultimate Team card pack will be available for both FIFA 18 on PS4 and Xbox One when FIFA 22 launches. Below, we will test out the FIFA Ultimate Team card pack on FIFA 18 for PS4 and Xbox One. To play the FIFA Ultimate Team Challenge, you need to be signed into your own EA

The Ultimate Team introduces new ways to earn FIFA Points by competing in games, accessing in-game content, and trading in cards and packs. My Career - A new feature allows you to design your own Pro Career, and then play it out as if it was your real-life career. Achievement Unlocked - Unlock 120 unique achievements in FIFA 22 as you master your trade, break new ground, and discover new ways to add flair to your gameplay. Earn badges that show how well you stack up against your colleagues. New Features & Improvements Direct Kicks - Direct Kicks have been improved. In particular, the physics of players receiving a direct kick have been updated, and this makes it easier to score a goal. Intelligent Defense - The intelligence of your players' defences has been improved. Smartly deployed technical players are now more effective at combating the opposing team's attack, and defending players are more effective at moving the ball into space. Intelligent Movement - The intelligence of your players' movement has been improved. Players now recognise the space that they should be moving to and avoid occupying dangerous positions in order to take the best chance of creating a chance or scoring a goal. MLS and Liga MX Match Engine - The match engine has been updated to mirror more closely the way MLS and Liga MX play and finish matches. By doing so, you should see more flow throughout matches. Improved Control and Speeds - Players who regularly flick the ball long from shots are more likely to score. Defenders are now more likely to take more intelligent and aggressive touches. Improved Passing - The active touch passing of new players has been improved. This means that players should be more likely to take short or medium passes and dribble further than before in order to move the ball through the opposition. Improved Free Kicks - Free kicks are easier to score and the ball has been made to bounce higher and further. Improved Ball Physics - Ball physics have been updated. Players should now be more likely to touch and dribble the ball, pass or shoot the ball, and take a shot more accurately. Improved Skill Moves - Skill moves have been improved. Players now take more touches as they control the ball, and are more likely to get a shot on goal, or to do an acrobatic move in order to make a goal. Improved Long Shots - Long shots and headers have been made easier to score, particularly if players use
