the project, VS Code will open and show a big window saying "VS Code is busy" and then it will crash showing a window saying: Failed to bind `jupyterHub-ipython_tmp.notebook' If I then reopen VS Code and try to open the project again, it will tell me it is busy as well and then crash. As noted in the issue is that versions later than 1.7.10 are not supported anymore, however they point to git-cmd instead. I'd recommend to follow this recommendation and perhaps ask in the comments whether downgrading git-gui is the first and only solution for your issue.
